Sexual Harassment Policy

Introduction

The Greenwood Lake Public Library is committed to maintaining a workplace free from sexual harassment. Sexual harassment is a form of workplace discrimination. All employees are required to work in a manner that prevents sexual harassment in the workplace. This policy is one component of the Greenwood Lake Public Library's commitment to a discrimination-free work environment. Sexual harassment is against the law¹ and all employees have a legal right to a workplace free from sexual harassment and employees are urged to report sexual harassment by filing a complaint internally with the Greenwood Lake Public Library. Employees can also file a complaint with a government agency or in court under federal, state or local antidiscrimination laws.

Policy:

- 1) The Greenwood Lake Public Library policy applies to all employees, applicants for employment, interns, whether paid or unpaid, contractors and persons conducting business regardless of immigration status, with the Greenwood Lake Public Library. In the remainder of this document, the term "employees" refers to this collective group.
- 2) Sexual harassment will not be tolerated. Any employee or individual covered by this policy who engages in sexual harassment or retaliation will be subject to remedial and/or disciplinary action (e.g., counseling, suspension, termination).
- 3) Retaliation Prohibition: No person covered by this policy shall be subject to adverse action because the employee reports an incident of sexual harassment, provides information, or otherwise assists in any investigation of a sexual harassment complaint. The Greenwood Lake Public Library will not tolerate such retaliation against anyone who, in good faith, reports or provides information about suspected sexual harassment. Any employee of the Greenwood Lake Public Library who retaliates against anyone involved in a sexual harassment investigation will be subjected to disciplinary action up to and including termination. All employees, paid or unpaid interns, or non-employees² working in the workplace who believe they have been subject to such retaliation should inform a supervisor, manager, or the Library Director. All employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been a target of such retaliation may also seek relief in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.
- 4) Sexual harassment is offensive, is a violation of our policies, is unlawful, and may subject the Greenwood Lake Public Library to liability for harm to targets of sexual harassment. Harassers may also be individually subject to liability. Employees of every level who engage in sexual harassment, including managers and supervisors who engage in sexual harassment or who allow such behavior to continue, will be penalized for such misconduct.

² A non-employee is someone who is (or is employed by) a contractor, subcontractor, vendor, consultant, or anyone providing services in the workplace. Protected non-employees include persons commonly referred to as independent contractors, "gig" workers and temporary workers. Also included are persons providing equipment repair, cleaning services or any other services provided pursuant to a contract with the employer.

- 5) The Greenwood Lake Public Library will conduct a prompt and thorough investigation that ensures due process for all parties, whenever management receives a complaint about sexual harassment, or otherwise knows of possible sexual harassment occurring. The Greenwood Lake Public Library will keep the investigation confidential to the extent possible. Effective corrective action will be taken whenever sexual harassment is found to have occurred. All employees, including managers and supervisors, are required to cooperate with any internal investigation of sexual harassment.
- 6) All employees are encouraged to report any harassment or behaviors that violate this policy. The Greenwood Lake Public Library will provide all employees a complaint form for employees to report harassment and file complaints.
- 7) Managers and supervisors are required to report any complaint that they receive, or any harassment that they observe or become aware of, to the Library Director and/or a member of the Board of Trustees.
- 8) This policy applies to all employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees and all must follow and uphold this policy. This policy must be provided to all employees and should be posted prominently in all work locations to the extent practicable (for example, in a main office, not an offsite work location) and be provided to employees upon hiring.

What is “Sexual Harassment”?

Sexual harassment is a form of sex discrimination and is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. Sexual harassment includes harassment on the basis of sex, sexual orientation, self-identified or perceived sex, gender expression, gender identity and the status of being transgender.

Sexual harassment includes unwelcome conduct which is either of a sexual nature, or which is directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex when:

- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive work environment, even if the reporting individual is not the intended target of the sexual harassment;
- Such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment; or
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct is used as the basis for employment decisions affecting an individual’s employment.

A sexually harassing hostile work environment includes, but is not limited to words, signs, jokes, pranks, intimidation or physical violence which are of a sexual nature, or which are directed at an individual because of that individual’s sex. Sexual harassment also consists of any unwanted verbal or physical advances, sexually explicit derogatory statements or sexually discriminatory remarks made by someone which are offensive or objectionable to the recipient, which cause the recipient discomfort or humiliation, which interfere with the recipient’s job performance.

Sexual harassment also occurs when a person in authority tries to trade job benefits for sexual favors. This can include hiring, promotion, continued employment or any other terms, conditions or privileges of employment. This is also called “quid pro quo” harassment. Any employee who feels harassed should report so that any violation of this policy can be corrected promptly. Any harassing conduct, even a single incident, can be addressed under this policy.

Examples of sexual harassment

The following describes some of the types of acts that may be unlawful sexual harassment and that are strictly prohibited:

- Physical acts of a sexual nature, such as touching, pinching, patting, kissing, hugging, grabbing, brushing against another employee's body or poking another employee's body.
- Rape, sexual battery, molestation or attempts to commit these assaults.
- Unwanted sexual advances or propositions, such as requests for sexual favors accompanied by implied or overt threats concerning the target's job performance evaluation, a promotion or other job benefits or detriments.
- Subtle or obvious pressure for unwelcome sexual activities.
- Sexually oriented gestures, noises, remarks or jokes, or comments about a person's sexuality or sexual experience, which create a hostile work environment.
- Sex stereotyping occurs when conduct or personality traits are considered inappropriate simply because they may not conform to other people's ideas or perceptions about how individuals of a particular sex should act or look.
- Sexual or discriminatory displays or publications anywhere in the workplace, such as displaying pictures, posters, calendars, graffiti, objects, promotional material, reading materials or other materials that are sexually demeaning or pornographic. This includes such sexual displays on workplace computers or cell phones and sharing such displays while in the workplace.
- Hostile actions taken against an individual because of that individual's sex, sexual orientation, gender identity and the status of being transgender, such as interfering with, destroying or damaging a person's workstation, tools or equipment, or otherwise interfering with the individual's ability to perform the job
- Sabotaging an individual's work
- Bullying, yelling, name-calling

Who can be a target of sexual harassment?

Sexual harassment can occur between any individuals, regardless of their sex or gender. New York Law protects employees, paid or unpaid interns, and non-employees, including independent contractors, and those employed by companies contracting to provide services in the workplace. Harassers can be a superior, a subordinate, a co-worker or anyone in the workplace including an independent contractor, contract worker, vendor, client, customer or visitor.

Where can sexual harassment occur?

Unlawful sexual harassment is not limited to the physical workplace itself. It can occur while employees are traveling for business or at employer sponsored events or parties. Calls, texts, emails, and social media usage by employees can constitute unlawful workplace harassment, even if they occur away from the workplace premises, on personal devices or during non-work hours.

Retaliation

Unlawful retaliation can be any action that could discourage a worker from coming forward to make or support a sexual harassment claim. Adverse action need not be job-related or occur in the workplace to constitute unlawful retaliation (e.g., threats of physical violence outside of work hours). Such retaliation is unlawful under federal, state, and (where applicable) local law. The New York State Human Rights Law protects any individual who has engaged in "protected activity". Protected activity occurs when a person has:

- Made a complaint of sexual harassment, either internally or with any anti-discrimination agency
- Testified or assisted in a proceeding involving sexual harassment under the Human Rights Law or other anti-discrimination law.
- Opposed sexual harassment by making a verbal or informal complaint to management, or by simply informing a supervisor or manager of harassment.
- Reported that another employee has been sexually harassed; or
- Encouraged a fellow employee to report harassment

Even if the alleged harassment does not turn out to rise to the level of a violation of law, the individual is protected from retaliation if the person had a good faith belief that the practices were unlawful. However, the retaliation provision is not intended to protect persons making intentionally false charges of harassment.

Reporting Sexual Harassment

Preventing sexual harassment is everyone’s responsibility. The Greenwood Lake Public Library cannot prevent or remedy sexual harassment unless it knows about it. Any employee, paid or unpaid intern or non-employee who has been subjected to behavior that may constitute sexual harassment is encouraged to report such behavior to a supervisor, manager or the Library Director and/or a member of the Board of Trustees. Anyone who witnesses or becomes aware of potential instances of sexual harassment should report such behavior to a supervisor, manager, or the Library Director and/or a member of the Board of Trustees.

Reports of sexual harassment may be made verbally or in writing. A form for submission of a written complaint is attached to this policy, and all employees are encouraged to use this complaint form. Employees who are reporting sexual harassment on behalf of other employees should use the complaint form and note that it is on another employee’s behalf. Employees, paid or unpaid interns or non-employees who believe they have been a target of sexual harassment may also seek assistance in other available forums, as explained below in the section on Legal Protections.

Supervisory Responsibilities

All supervisors and managers who receive a complaint or information about suspected sexual harassment, observe what may be sexually harassing behavior or for any reason suspect that sexual harassment is occurring, are required to report such suspected sexual harassment to the Library Director and/or a member of the Board of Trustees.

In addition to being subject to discipline if they engaged in sexually harassing conduct themselves, supervisors and managers will be subject to discipline for failing to report suspected sexual harassment or otherwise knowingly allowing sexual harassment to continue.

Supervisors and managers will also be subject to discipline for engaging in any retaliation.

Complaint and Investigation of Sexual Harassment

All complaints or information about sexual harassment will be investigated, whether that information was reported in verbal or written form. Investigations will be conducted in a timely manner, and will be confidential to the extent possible.

An investigation of any complaint, information or knowledge of suspected sexual harassment will be prompt and thorough, commenced immediately and completed as soon as possible. The investigation will be kept confidential to the extent possible. All persons involved, including complainants, witnesses and alleged harassers will be accorded due process, as outlined below, to protect their rights to a fair and impartial investigation.

Any employee may be required to cooperate as needed in an investigation of suspected sexual harassment. The Greenwood Lake Public Library will not tolerate retaliation against employees who file complaints, support another's complaint or participate in an investigation regarding a violation of this policy.

While the process may vary from case to case, investigation should be done in accordance with the following steps:

- Upon receipt of complaint, the Library Director and/or member of the Board of Trustees will conduct an immediate review of the allegations, and take any interim actions (e.g., instructing the respondent to refrain from communications with the complainant), as appropriate. If complaint is verbal, encourage the individual to complete the "Complaint Form" in writing. If he or she refuses, prepare a Complaint Form based on the verbal reporting.
- If documents, emails or phone records are relevant to the investigation, take steps to obtain and preserve them.
- Request and review all relevant documents, including all electronic communications.
- Interview all parties involved, including any relevant witnesses.
- Create a written documentation of the investigation (such as a letter, memo or email), which contains a list of all documents reviewed, along with a detailed summary of relevant documents.
- A list of names of those interviewed, along with a detailed summary of their statements
- A timeline of events
- A summary of prior relevant incidents, reported or unreported
- The basis for the decision and final resolution of the complaint, together with any corrective action(s)
- Keep the written documentation and associated documents in a secure and confidential location.
- Promptly notify the individual who reported and the individual(s) about whom the complaint was made of the final determination and implement any corrective actions identified in the written document.
- Inform the individual who reported of the right to file a complaint or charge externally as outlined in the next section.

Legal Protections and External Remedies

Sexual harassment is not only prohibited by the Greenwood Lake Public Library, but is also prohibited by state, federal and, where applicable, local law.

Aside from the internal process at the Greenwood Lake Public Library, employees may also choose to pursue legal remedies with the following governmental entities. While a private attorney is not required to file a complaint with a governmental agency, you may seek the legal advice of an attorney.

In addition to those outlined below, employees in certain industries may have additional legal protections.

State Human Rights Law (HRL)

The Human Rights Law (HRL), codified as N.Y. Executive Law, art. 15 §290 et seq., applies to all employers in New York State with regard to sexual harassment, and protects employees, paid or unpaid interns and non-employees, regardless of immigration status. A complaint alleging violation of the Human Rights Law may be filed either with the Division of Human Rights (DHR) or in New York State Supreme Court.

Complaints with DHR may be filed any time within one year of the harassment. If an individual did not file at DHR, they can sue directly in state court under the HRL, within three years of the alleged sexual harassment. An individual may not file with DHR if they have already filed a HRL complaint in state court.

Complaining internally to the Greenwood Lake Public Library does not extend your time to file with DHR or in court. The one year or three years is counted from the date of the most recent incident of harassment.

You do not need an attorney to file a complaint with DHR, and there is no cost to file with DHR. DHR will investigate your complaint and determine whether there is probable cause to believe that sexual harassment has occurred. Probable cause cases are forwarded to a public hearing before an administrative law judge. If sexual harassment is found after a hearing, DHR has the power to award relief, which varies but may include requiring your employer to take action to stop the harassment, or redress the damage caused including pay of monetary damage, attorney's fees and civil fines.

DHR's main office contact information is:

NYS Division of Human Rights
One Fordham Plaza; 4th Floor
Bronx, NY 10458

Contact DHR at (888) 392-3644 or visit dhr.ny.gov/complaint for more information about filing a complaint. The website has a complaint form that can be downloaded, filled out, notarized and mailed to DHR. The website also contains contact information for DHR's regional offices across New York State.

Civil Rights Act of 1964

The United States Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC) enforces federal anti-discrimination laws, including Title VII of the 194 federal Civil Rights Act (codified as 42 U.S.C. §2000e et seq.). An individual can file a complaint with the EEOC anytime within 300 days from the harassment. There is no cost to file a complaint with the EEOC. The EEOC will investigate the complaint, and determine whether there is reasonable cause to believe that discrimination has occurred, at which point the EEOC will issue a Right to Sue letter permitting the individual to file a complaint in federal court.

The EEOC does not hold hearings or award relief, but may take other action including pursuing cases in federal court on behalf of complaining parties. Federal courts may award remedies if discrimination is found to have occurred. In general, private employers must have at least 15 employees to come within the jurisdiction of the EEOC.

An employee alleging discrimination at work can file a “Charge of Discrimination”. The EEOC has district, area and field offices where complaints can be filed. Contact the EEOC by calling 1-800-669-400 (TTY: 1-800-669-6820), visiting their website at www.eeoc.gov or via email at info@eeoc.gov.

If an individual filed an administrative complaint with DHR, DHR will file the complaint with the EEOC to preserve the right to proceed in federal court.

Anti-Harassment/Discrimination Policy

The Greenwood Lake Public Library affirms its commitment to a policy of protecting and safeguarding the rights and opportunities of all people who seek, obtain and hold employment without subjugation to harassment or discrimination in the workplace. It is the Library’s policy to provide an employment environment free from discrimination and harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, national origin, disability, political affiliation, age, arrest record and veteran or marital status.

This policy applies to all Library employees and all personnel in a contractual or other business relationship with the Library, including independent contractors, vendors, consultants, volunteers and visitors. It may also be applied to the conduct of non-employees with respect to unlawful harassment and/or discrimination of Library employees in the workplace. The policy applies with equal force on all Library premises, Library sponsored events, programs and activities that take place off the Library premises.

“Prohibited Discrimination” of employees can take the form of any negative treatment of an employee, by either a Library official, co-worker or patron, which negatively impacts an employee’s employment opportunity and/or employment benefits, and is based upon the employee’s race, color, creed, religion, national origin, disability, political affiliation, age, arrest record and veteran or marital status. Prohibited discrimination of employees can also take the form of harassment even when there is no tangible impact upon the employee’s employment opportunities and/or employment benefits.

“Prohibited Harassment” can constitute a form of prohibited discrimination under this Policy if it is unwelcome and has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s work performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive working environment. Such harassment of employees is prohibited by this Policy if it is based upon race, color, creed, religion, national origin, disability, age, sexual orientation, arrest record, and veteran or marital status. In this regard, individuals subject to this Policy should be mindful that conduct or behavior that is acceptable amusing or inoffensive to some, may be viewed as unwelcome, abusive or offensive to others.

“Prohibited Behavior” - It is impossible to list all possible forms of unlawful harassment, the following are examples of conduct that may constitute harassment based on race, color, creed, religion, national origin, disability, political affiliation, age, arrest record and veteran or marital status:

- Using slurs or derogatory terms
- Telling derogatory jokes or stories
- Displaying graffiti or other derogatory or insulting writings
- Making degrading comments about a person and/or their appearance
- Demeaning or criticizing an individual
- Sabotaging, damaging or interfering with an individual’s work
- Threatening or intimidating an individual

While a single incident of these types of behavior may not create a hostile working environment, if such behavior is severe, persistent or pervasive, or if submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of employment or receipt of employment benefits, such conduct constitutes prohibited discrimination and/or harassment.

The Library will not tolerate any form of unlawful discrimination or harassment and will take all steps necessary to prevent and stop such occurrences in the workplace. All employees, including supervisory personnel and Board of Trustees are responsible for ensuring a work environment free from prohibited discrimination and harassment. Employees are directed to report violations to the Library Director, Board Secretary, or directly to The Board. They, in turn, must take immediate and appropriate corrective action when instances of prohibited discrimination and/or harassment come to their attention to assure compliance with this Policy.

Procedure for Complaints:

Reporting of all incidents is essential, regardless of the offender's identity or position. An employee or other individual shall contact the Library Director, Board Secretary or member of The Board either orally or in writing as soon as possible, preferably immediately after the incident occurs. A complaint form can be obtained through the administrative office.

All employees should be aware that appropriate resolution of discrimination complaints and effective remedial action oftentimes is possible only when complaints are promptly filed. Complaining parties should be aware that statutes of limitations may constrain the time period for instituting legal actions outside of this Policy.

The Library will investigate all allegations of discrimination and harassment as promptly as possible. Complainants are expected to cooperate with the Library's investigation procedures by providing all relevant information relating to the complaint, as are all other parties having relevant or related knowledge or information regarding the incident in question. The Library shall keep complaints as confidential as the investigation allows, recognizing the personal nature and emotional impact of discrimination/harassment allegations.

Retaliation is strictly prohibited by the Policy and by law against anyone who in good faith reports a suspected violation of this Policy, who assists in making such a complaint, or who cooperates in a harassment or discrimination investigation. Complaints of retaliation should be brought directly to the Library Director, Board Secretary or member of The Board.

If retaliation is found, the person retaliating will be subject to corrective action up to and including termination from employment, or in the case of a non-employee, an appropriate remedy up to and including suspension of their Library privileges.

- 2) The library carries excess liability coverage for staff, directors and officers utilizing their own vehicles to conduct library business; however, each individual's own automobile insurance policy is the primary insurance in the event of an accident or traffic violation.
